News: VA Expands Eligibility for VA Health Care Related to MST

The VA announced expanded eligibility for Veterans in need of mental health care due to sexual assault or harassment (i.e. military sexual trauma [MST]) that occurred while in the military. This expansion pertains particularly to men and women of the National Guard and reserve components. More information on MST can be found at http://www.mentalhealth.va.gov/msthome.asp

Current Research

The purpose of this article was to compare the relationship harmony and affection and emotional and physiological reactivity to couple conflict in military couples with or without military-related PTSD. Authors found that, compared to couples without PTSD, couples with PTSD reported less relationship satisfaction, more conflict, lower warmth and closeness, greater anger, and anxiety during conflict. In addition to couple comparisons, authors also discussed unique male and female differences. For example, physiological correlates of PTSD were more apparent in partners than in males with PTSD.
