

2012 STATEWIDE DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CONFERENCE
September 13th & 14th  San Diego CA

CALL FOR WORKSHOP PROPOSALS
Due February 29, 2012

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/connect_dots_2012_workshop_proposal

The California Partnership to End Domestic Violence believes that by sharing expertise, advocates and allies can work together to end domestic violence. The Partnership is the only organization that enables advocates from across California to connect, explore best practices and share resources. Our track record of high quality trainings and professional development opportunities uniquely positions us to bring together local organizations, advocates and allied professionals to strengthen their capacity to prevent and address domestic violence in California. Every day the Partnership inspires, informs and connects all those concerned with our issue, because together we're stronger.

This year's Statewide Domestic Violence Conference, "Connecting the Dots," will again focus on connecting social justice movements, enhancing collaborations, and strengthening the diversity and leadership of our advocacy network. We anticipate 400 individuals will attend the conference representing a wide range of disciplines including:

- Domestic violence advocates
- Legal professionals
- Faith leaders
- Social workers
- Criminal justice professionals
- Prevention educators
- Health care providers
- Social activists
- Public benefits workers
- And other allied professionals

Workshops on all aspects of domestic violence prevention and intervention are sought. In particular, we welcome workshop proposals that:

- ✓ Illuminate unique and promising practices
- ✓ Utilize innovative methods and interactive learning techniques.
- ✓ Promote culturally sensitive / relevant approaches to traditionally unserved and underserved populations

To Submit a Workshop Proposal:

- Click on the following link:
http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/connect_dots_2012_workshop_proposal to submit an online proposal
- Workshop Proposals are due 02/29/12
- Our Conference Advisory Committee will review the proposals and notify presenters in May, 2012

Questions about our Statewide Domestic Violence Conference?

- Please go to our website (www.cpedv.org) for more information
- Or contact the Partnership at (916) 444-7163 or e-mail: info@cpedv.org
- As the only annual gathering of domestic violence professionals in the State, Connecting the Dots offers SPONSORS and MARKETPLACE EXHIBITORS the ideal opportunity to showcase products and services to a unique audience (to learn more, please contact Tracie Stafford at spokesperson@cpedv.org or call 916-667-8977)