Remembering those we have lost.

As we start a new year, we want to be sure to remember those who we have lost as a result of domestic violence.

The National Coalition Against Domestic Violence (NCADV), in conjunction with Ms. Magazine, started this project in 1994. The project was developed to create a national registry of victim's to increase public awareness of domestic violence deaths. 20 years later, NCADV continues to collect the names and information submitted by family and friends to produce a honorarium poster each year for Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

How to submit name & information of those you would like to remember.

We invite submissions from family, friends, co-workers, advocates and others of the names of those you would like to remember. Please use this link http://www.emailmeform.com/builder/form/e8m0fM6db7hNbc49IBR7 to complete the submission form.

Please also share with us details about who this person was in life such as their personality, their character, or their hopes and dreams, etc., by clicking here. Information collected here will be used during our on-going efforts to honor victims of domestic violence.
