

NATIONAL CENTER
on Domestic and Sexual Violence training • consulting • advocacy

At a Glance in FY 2004

(October 1, 2003 through September 30, 2004)

Trained 795 law enforcement officers, prosecutors, dispatchers and advocates at 22 trainings, reaching 106,800–445,000¹ victims of domestic and sexual violence and 985² secondary students through the Domestic Violence: Train-the-Trainer Program with the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center; the Rural Law Enforcement Training – Domestic Violence: Intervention and Investigation and Rural Domestic Violence Training for Communication Professionals (Dispatchers/Call Takers) with the National Sheriffs' Association; and the Rural Sexual Assault Management and Investigators Conferences with the National Center for Rural Law Enforcement – funded by the Office on Violence Against Women

Developed and presented 3 trainings reaching 300 Coast Guard commanders, 50 Air Force Judge Advocate Generals, reaching 600–3,000³ victims of domestic violence, and 44 chaplains from all military services, reaching 2,640–52,800⁴ victims of domestic violence

Trained 131 military and civilian law enforcement officers, prosecutors and advocates at 4 trainings, reaching 47,160–393,000⁵ victims of domestic violence and 655⁶ secondary students through the Domestic Violence: Train-the-Trainer Program, with the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center – funded by the Office on Violence Against Women and the U.S. Department of Defense

Developed and presented 20 customized trainings on a variety of topics for diverse audiences nationwide

Provided logistical and meeting planning support and onsite consultation for 94 meetings and trainings through the Technical Assistance Providers Support (TAPS) project – funded by the Office on Violence Against Women

Participated in 4 meetings to support the implementation processes for the recommendations of the Defense Task Force on Domestic Violence and the Task Force for the Care of Victims of Sexual Assault

Testified 3 times before the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives and the Congressional Women's Caucus

Launched the Military/Civilian Coordinated Community Response Demonstration Project with the Battered Women's Justice Project in Jacksonville, FL, and their naval stations, JAX and Mayport, and the Army's Fort Campbell, KY – funded by the Office on Violence Against Women and the U.S. Department of Defense

Consulted with 8 communities and organizations in their response to domestic and sexual violence; participated in 17 networking and planning meetings; and attended 28 professional development trainings

Responded to 683 technical assistance requests; added 2,724 books, videos, reports and manuals to the library – funded by the Office on Violence Against Women

Received the 2004 Standard of Excellence Award in September 2004 from the Web Marketing Association. The National Center's website received 3,483,457 visits in FY 2004.

¹ Estimates each officer from a rural area responds to five calls a month (60 per year), while those from urban areas respond to as many as five a week (250 per year).

² Estimates each train-the-trainer participant trains at least five others; the impact may be much greater.

³ Estimates each JAG from a small base talks to one victim a month, while those from larger bases talk to five a month.

⁴ Estimates each chaplain from a small installation talks to five victims a month (60 per year), while those from larger installations talk with as many as 100 a month (1,200 per year).

⁵ Estimates each officer from a small installation/community responds to five calls a month (60 per year), while those from larger installations/more urban areas may respond to as many as 10 per week (500 per year).

⁶ Estimates each train-the-trainer participant trains at least five others; the impact may be much greater.