Why Should I Care About Elder Abuse?

Elder abuse is an under recognized problem with devastating and even life threatening consequences.

Every day, headlines throughout the U.S. paint a grim picture of seniors who have been abused, neglected, and exploited, often by people they trust the most. Abusers may be spouses, family members, personal acquaintances, or professionals in positions of trust, or opportunistic strangers who prey on the vulnerable.

How big is the problem? Research indicates that more than one in ten elders may experience some type of abuse, but only one in 23 cases are reported. This means that very few seniors who have been abused get the help they need.

One thing is for certain: elder abuse can happen to any older individual – your neighbor, your loved one – it can even happen to you.

Types of Elder Abuse

- Physical abuse: Use of force to threaten or physically injure an elder
- Emotional abuse: Verbal attacks, threats, rejection, isolation, or belittling acts that cause or could cause mental anguish, pain, or distress to a senior
- Sexual abuse: Sexual contact that is forced, tricked, threatened, or otherwise coerced upon an elder, including anyone who is unable to grant consent
- Exploitation: Theft, fraud, misuse or neglect of authority, and use of undue influence as a lever to gain control over an older person’s money or property
- Neglect: A caregiver’s failure or refusal to provide for a vulnerable elder’s safety, physical, or emotional needs
- Abandonment: Desertion of a frail or vulnerable elder by anyone with a duty of care
- Self-neglect: An inability to understand the consequences of one’s own actions or inaction, which leads to, or may lead to, harm or endangerment

Remember: You do not need to prove that abuse is occurring; it is up to the professionals to investigate the suspicions.

What Should I Do if I Suspect Elder Abuse?

- REPORT YOUR CONCERNS
  Remember: Most cases of elder abuse go undetected. Don’t assume that someone has already reported a suspicious situation.
  To report suspected abuse in the community, contact your local Adult Protective Services agency. For state reporting numbers, visit the NCEA website at www.ncea.aoa.gov or call the Eldercare Locator at 1-800-677-1116.

- IF YOU OR SOMEONE YOU KNOW IS IN A LIFE THREATENING SITUATION OR IMMEDIATE DANGER, contact 911 or the local police or sheriff.

- TO REPORT SUSPECTED ABUSE IN A NURSING HOME OR LONG-TERM CARE FACILITY, contact your state specific agency. To find the listing, visit the Long Term Care Ombudsman website. www.ltcombudsman.org/ombudsman

WARNING SIGNS

- Physical Abuse: Slap marks, unexplained bruises, most pressure marks, and certain types of burns or blisters, such as cigarette burns
- Neglect: Pressure ulcers, filth, lack of medical care, malnutrition or dehydration
- Emotional Abuse: Withdrawal from normal activities, unexplained changes in alertness, or other unusual behavioral changes
- Sexual Abuse: Bruises around the breasts or genital area and unexplained sexually transmitted diseases
- Financial Abuse/Exploitation: Sudden change in finances and accounts, altered wills and trusts, unusual bank withdrawals, checks written as “loans” or “gifts” and loss of property

What Can I Do to Prevent Elder Abuse?

» REPORT SUSPECTED MISTREATMENT to your local Adult Protective Services agency or law enforcement. Although a situation may have already been investigated, if you believe circumstances are getting worse, continue to speak out.

» KEEP IN CONTACT – Talk with your older friends, neighbors, and relatives. Maintaining communication will help decrease isolation, a risk factor for mistreatment. It will also give them a chance to talk about any problems they may be experiencing.

» BE AWARE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF ABUSE – Look around and take note of what may be happening with your older neighbors and acquaintances. Do they seem lately to be withdrawn, nervous, fearful, sad, or anxious, especially around certain people, when they have not seemed so in the past?

» CONTACT YOUR LOCAL AREA AGENCY ON AGING OFFICE to identify local programs and sources of support, such as Meals on Wheels. These programs help elders to maintain health, well-being, and independence – a good defense against abuse.

» VOLUNTEER – There are many local opportunities to become involved in programs that provide assistance and support for seniors.

» OBSERVE WORLD ELDER ABUSE AWARENESS DAY – Elder abuse is a global issue. Contact your local aging services organizations to find out how your community will observe World Elder Abuse Awareness Day (commemorated on June 15 every year). Help to raise awareness by talking about the issue.

» LEARN MORE ABOUT THE ISSUE – Visit the National Center on Elder Abuse website at www.ncea.aoa.gov.

The NCEA is a national resource center that provides technical support and information to professionals and advocates working on behalf of older individuals. It also provides information and referrals to the public. The NCEA is not an investigation, nor a reporting, agency and cannot intervene in local cases of suspected elder mistreatment.
