Name, Frame, & Respond – Interrupting Homophobia, Transphobia & Heterosexism

Date: Tuesday, March 24th, 2015
Time: 12:00 pm - 1:30 pm Pacific Time

Presented by Kristin Tucker and Amarthia Torres

You have the policy, now what? This interactive webinar will prepare participants to name, frame, and respond to oppressive or concerning comments and actions, and incidents of harassment in anti-violence programs. Participants will respond to scenarios that address both overt and covert homophobia & transphobia, as well as role-playing through real-life situations generated by workers in the field. Content will focus on scenarios specific to both SA and DV advocacy. *A sense of humor and willingness to learn is highly suggested!

Click here to register

**********************************************************************************************************
Sheltering, Part 2

Date: Tuesday, April 7th, 2015
Time: 12:00 pm - 1:30 pm Pacific Time

Presented by Margaret Hobart and Connie Burk

In our first discussion of Shelter(ing) (can we make a link to the recording here?), we uncovered many important questions! Many participants were very concerned about the experience LGBTQ survivors have in communal emergency shelters, and intrigued by discussion about several programs who have changed their emergency housing and advocacy models to be more trauma sensitive, culturally competent, and, in some cases cost effective as well. In this webinar, we will explore more fully what our work can look like when we see "shelter" as a verb, instead of a noun, how programs have made these changes, and the difference it has made for them in terms of providing services to LGBTQ folks (and other groups who may be challenged by communal shelter).

[Click here to register]

***************************************************************************

Let's Talk About Sex: Sex-Positive Advocacy for Survivors of Sexual & Domestic Violence

Date: Tuesday, April 14th, 2015
Time: 12:00 pm - 1:30 pm Pacific Time

Presented by Kristin Tucker and Amarinthia Torres

In honor of Sexual Violence Awareness Month, join us for a dynamic, interactive session exploring what it means to re-envision the way we provide support and understand healing for survivors of sexual & domestic violence. In this session, we will examine our personal and movement values as they relate to sex, sexual violence and what it means to heal from trauma; build our self-awareness and individual skills to provide grounded, holistic services to survivors of violence; and increase organizational capacity to provide services & engage communities around sexual violence in a sex-positive context. Come prepared to have some real talk about sex, healing and the possibilities for our movement to move beyond simply addressing harm and towards a vision of embodied sexual lives for all survivors.

[Click here to register]
Accountable Communities

Date: Tuesday, April 28th, 2015
Time: 12:00 pm - 1:30 pm Pacific Time

Presented by Shannon Perez-Darby and Connie Burk

We know that relationships exist within the context of other relationships, especially in small communities. Centering LGBTQ communities this webinar will focus on addressing community based responses to domestic and sexual violence. This webinar is designed to surface illicit tensions around, transformative justice, community accountability and other community based strategies for addressing violence while looking at how we can come together to create the conditions to support loving equitable relationships.

Click here to register

Please contact the Northwest Network of Bisexual, Trans, Lesbian and Gay Survivors of Abuse for additional information on these webinars