

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC): What DV Victim Advocates Should Know to Help Survivors

February 9, 2012 ~ 3:00-4:30pm Eastern

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) is the federal government's largest program benefiting low-wage working families, but the IRS estimates that 20 to 25 percent of qualifying taxpayers miss out on thousands of dollars every year because they fail to claim it.

This webinar is designed to help state and local domestic violence advocates learn more about the EITC and other tax credits, and why free Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) tax preparation sites are an important community resource for survivors.

Co-sponsors include the Family Violence Prevention and Services Program and the Assets for Independence Program at the Administration for Children and Families/U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, along with the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence and the National Network to End Domestic Violence.

More detailed information related to presenters and resource materials will be forwarded prior to the webinar to all those who have registered.

Please click on the link below to register the webinar session.

Thursday, February 9, 3:00-4:30pm Eastern: <http://bwjp.ilinc.com/register/vkmcyst>

You will receive a confirmation email shortly after you register.

For questions related to the content of this webinar contact Anne Menard, Executive Director for the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence at amenard@nrcdv.org

For technical questions or assistance contact Erica Keim, Project Assistant for the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence at ekeim@nrcdv.org

What is a webinar?

A webinar allows the user to participate in an online workshop by both watching a presentation on your computer screen (using a regular internet connection) and hearing the presentation through your telephone.

Accessibility

We value access for all participants. Please note any accessibility accommodation you require by sending an email to Erica Keim at ekeim@nrcdv.org.
~ASL interpreter ~Braille ~ Closed Captioning ~ Advance e-copy ~ Large print~

*The National Resource Center on Domestic Violence (NRC DV) is funded by the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services (HHS).
National Resource Center on Domestic Violence 3605 Vartan Way, Suite 101, Harrisburg PA 17110
800.537.2238 TTY 800.553.2508, Fax 717-545-9456
www.nrcdv.org | www.VAWnet.org*