

NOW AVAILABLE:
A GROUND-BREAKING NEW BOOK EXAMINING THE BREADTH OF ISSUES RELATED TO PORNOGRAPHY AND PROSTITUTION, AND HOW PORNOGRAPHY FUELS THE DEMAND FOR SEX TRAFFICKING.

Featuring chapters by some of the leading activists and researchers in the field:

Dr. Anna Agathangelou
Janine Benedet
Julie Bindel
Vednita Carter
Michelle Dempsey
Dr. Gail Dines
Annalisa Enrile,
Dr. Aghtise Esohe
Melissa Farley
Ken Franzblau
Rus Ervin Funk
Robert Jensen
Christopher Kendall
Catherine MacKinnon
Dr. Neil Malamuth
Eileen Pitipan
Diana Russell
Chris Stark
Chyng Sun
Rebecca Whisnant

Edited by
David E. Guinn with Julie DiCaro

paperback -- $24.99
Hardback -- $34.99

Available May/June, 2007

Pre-order your copy today at www.captivedaughters.org

Captive Daughters is a national non-profit organization committed to ending the exploitative practice of sex trafficking, with a particular focus on girls and women based in Los Angeles. Captive Daughters is a educational and training organization that focuses on raising awareness about the affects of Trafficking – a practice that impacts an estimated 800,000-900,000 humans each year, in almost every country.*