VETERAN DOMESTIC VIOLENCE RESOURCE DIRECTORY

for domestic violence organizations working with military veterans and families
A few tips when working with veterans:

- Spend time listening
- Speak simply, brief and slowly
- Not responsive may not = non-compliant
- Anger, fighting, alcohol & drugs may be signs of post traumatic stress (PTS)
- Women veterans can have PTS

Ask:

- Did you serve in the Armed Forces?
- Are you enrolled in the VA?
- Do you have a DD214?
- May I make a referral for you or help you get in touch with veteran services?
- Do you have a place to stay tonight?

Mission The purpose of the California Statewide Collaborative ("CASC" or "Collaborative") is to be a strong voice advocating for a wholistic, compassionate continuum of services, treatment and care for our service members, veterans and their families. It provides a forum to share information and education, raise awareness, and promote strategic partnerships that will streamline and improve access to health and human services.

The Coming Home Project is a non-profit organization devoted, since 2006, to providing expert, compassionate care, support, education, and stress management tools for Iraq and Afghanistan veterans, service members, their families, and their service providers. We are an experienced team of psychotherapists, veterans and interfaith leaders committed to alleviating the unseen wounds of war. Our nationally recognized, evidence-based programs address the emotional, social, moral, and spiritual injuries and the family challenges experienced during all stages of deployment, especially reintegration.

The Coming Home Project offers a continuum of services, from retreats and psychological counseling to training and self-care for service providers and community education and consultation.

Our mission is to develop national networks of volunteers capable of responding to both acute and chronic conditions that arise within our society. Our first target population is the U.S. troops and families who are being affected by the current military conflicts in Afghanistan, Iraq, and supporting areas. Give an Hour is asking mental health professionals nationwide to literally donate an hour of their time each week to provide free mental health services to military personnel and their families. Research will guide the development of additional services needed by the military community, and appropriate networks will be created to respond to those needs. Individuals who receive services will be given the opportunity to give an hour back in their own community.
The Pathway Home Program is a residential recovery program specifically created for, and dedicated to serve, our nation’s “new warriors”—those of any age, who have served our nation’s Global War on Terror in areas of the world such as Afghanistan and Iraq. The Pathway Program can help to address those problems and maximize each Warrior’s mental and physical health, coping, resiliency, and overall functioning—whether that is post-deployment, or re-deployment, or civilian status.

Philosophy and Mission The Pathway Home is a true community where we band together to embrace and assist our warriors (who we think of as members). Our mission is to provide the respect, guidance, and support that each Warrior needs to rebound from combat or other challenging military experiences.

Mission War causes wounds and suffering that last beyond the battlefield. Swords to Plowshares’ mission is to heal the wounds, to restore dignity, hope, and self-sufficiency to all veterans in need, and to significantly reduce homelessness and poverty among veterans.

Vision All veterans will have access to the care and services they need to rebuild their lives.

Swords to Plowshares is a community-based veteran service organization that provides wrap-around care to more than 2,000 veterans in the San Francisco Bay Area each year. We are committed to helping veterans break through the cultural, educational, psychological and economic barriers they often face in their transition to the civilian world.

Swords to Plowshares is a national model for veteran services and advocacy. With more than 35 years of experience, we have established the most respected and comprehensive model of care for veterans in the country.
