- FY 98 through FY 05 data on spouse abuse includes only those incidents involving married individuals. In FY 06, an additional category has been added to capture substantiated incidents involving intimate partners. An intimate partner is defined as a person of the opposite sex with whom the victim shares a child in common, or a person with whom the victim shares or has shared a common domicile.

- Reports represent the number of incidents of abuse; therefore one or more reports may be submitted on a single victim. This allows for the identification of families in which repeated acts of family violence have occurred.
- The data only reflects child abuse and domestic abuse reported to the DoD FAP. It is not an estimate of the total amount of child abuse and domestic abuse that occurred in military families.
- The data includes physical abuse (including acts resulting in no injuries), sexual abuse, and emotional abuse (including emotional abuse without any acts of physical or sexual abuse).
- In substantiated reports, the abuser may have been an active duty service member, a civilian family member, or (in child abuse incidents) a caregiver outside the family. Beginning in FY 06, the abuser in domestic abuse may have been an intimate partner.
- This data should not be compared to data from other studies unless:
 - Differences in military and civilian contexts have been addressed,
 - The studies' design and methodologies were similar (e.g., reports to authorities should not be compared to estimates from surveys of the population),
 - The data elements were similar,
 - The demographics from the studies are standardized to the military population, which is much younger and more male than the general civilian population.
