Women & Criminal Justice

Call for Papers, Volume 23 (2013)

Special Issue: Gender and Dating Violence

The Women & Criminal Justice Journal invites you to submit original papers in the broad area of gender and dating violence. We welcome submissions dealing with teen dating violence, teen cyber-stalking and cyber-harassment, adult dating violence and differences between males and females in offending and victimization. Gender is broadly defined to include gay and lesbian issues of dating violence. Papers should include policy and legal changes that have responded to gendered violence in dating relationships.

Published quarterly, Women & Criminal Justice Journal is a peer review scholarly journal serving the needs of criminal justice educators, students and policy makers world-wide. For more information, please visit the journal’s website at http://www.tandfonline.com/toc/wwcj20/current.

Women & Criminal Justice is the only periodical devoted specifically to scholarly interdisciplinary and international research on all concerns related to women and criminal justice. It provides scholars with a single forum devoted to this critical specialty area in the fields of criminal justice, human rights, law, politics, psychology, sociology, social work, and women's studies. Both qualitative and quantitative studies are welcomed, as are studies that test theories about women as victims, professionals and offenders.

Submission Instructions

1. Submit online at: http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/wwcj. Typical length of submission is twenty-five pages, double spaced, including abstract, appendices, references, figures, and tables. Deadline for consideration in the special issue is January 30, 2013.
2. Include a cover page with the paper's title and the name, address, telephone number, and e-mail address of the contact person. Indicate that you wish consideration for publication in the special issue.
3. For formatting information, see our style guide on our website at: http://www.tandfonline.com/action/authorSubmission?journalCode=wwcj20&page=instructions.
4. Papers will be reviewed by the Editor (Dr. Frances Bernat), the Special Issues Guest Editor (Dr. Angela Gover) and in accordance with a blind review process.
5. Submission indicates that your manuscript or a similar version of it has not been previously published, accepted for publication, and/or is not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere.

Thank you for your manuscript!

Frances P. Bernat, Editor, Women & Criminal Justice Journal (frances.bernat@tamiu.edu)
Angela Gover, Special Issue Editor, Women & Criminal Justice Journal (angela.gover@ucdenver.edu)