TO END DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Dear Friend,

Now is the time for your voice to be heard!
Join us in calling on Congress to reject the proposed budget cuts and support robust investments in programs that prevent and end domestic and sexual violence.

Today the President released his proposed FY18 budget, which calls for deep cuts across almost all federal agencies. These cuts could harm domestic violence survivors by cutting their access to life-saving services.

Some of our strongest allies in the House are circulating a "Dear Colleague" letter advocating for robust investments in programs that address violence against women. These letters are sent to their colleagues on the Congressional funding committees and demonstrate support for federal programs that protect and serve survivors.

Please click to email and ask your Representatives and request their support for this crucial funding today.
